Fund Commentary

The Fund delivered a return of 0.5% in August. The major contributor was Coventry Group Ltd (CYG) (~0.6%), which rose 12% as investors sought out CYG's 11 cents per share fully franked dividend. There were also small losses (-0.1%) from number of holdings, but nothing we consider noteworthy.

We have been building a small position in AMP China Growth Fund (AGF), a listed fund that invests in "China A" shares listed on Chinese stock exchanges. AGF trades at a substantial discount to its net tangible asset backing per unit.

We have, in the past, applied derivative strategies to hedge out market risks. Short selling (where we would borrow shares we don't own to sell them) is another means by which we might hedge certain risks, such as market risk. Until now, we have not employed short-selling as while the Fund was small, this was impractical.

AGF is an investment where, as our position grows, we intend short-selling to hedge some of the Chinese market risks associated with an investment in AGF. This will serve to focus the Fund's exposure to the discount to NTA of AGF and reduce the risks associated with Chinese financial markets. Just as with our previous hedging strategies, such a short position is not designed to totally eliminate risks, but rather aims to take a significant part of any sting away.

We continue to remain cautious about the global macro outlook, though actual (and expected) regulatory responses (that we do not consider solve root problems) can engender significant positive market responses. The consequences of the significant macro factors at play globally are difficult to predict or quantify.

We remain focused on opportunities that have high levels of tangible assets, marketable securities or cash and whose prospects are somewhat independent of market and economic conditions, as we believe these offer the best risk-adjusted returns in the current environment.
